Boston - From January to March, the high yield municipal market posted the second-worst first quarter returns in 40 years, surpassed only by the first quarter of 2020 when the COVID pandemic hit. Now with stable municipal credit quality and higher absolute yields than at the beginning of the year, we are starting to see some value and better opportunities in the high yield municipal space.

Boston - Concerns over inflation and central bank responses have driven market volatility to very high levels around the globe. But while this is a fairly recent phenomenon in the G10 space, it has been playing out in Latin America over the last 18 months. The enormous volatility in local markets is now opening opportunities for investors who have been increasingly asking when and where they should buy duration.
