About Risk:

Fund share values are sensitive to stock market volatility, adverse market, economic, political, regulatory, geopolitical and other conditions. In international markets, these risks may be more significant. An imbalance in supply and demand in the income market may result in valuation uncertainties and greater volatility, less liquidity, widening credit spreads and a lack of price transparency in the market. Investments in income securities may be affected by changes in the creditworthiness of the issuer and are subject to the risk of non-payment of principal and interest. The value of income securities also may decline because of real or perceived concerns about the issuer's ability to make principal and interest payments. Derivative instruments can be used to take both long and short positions, be highly volatile, result in economic leverage (which can magnify losses) and involve risks in addition to the risks of the underlying instrument on which the derivative is based, such as counter-party, correlation and liquidity risk. If a counter-party is unable to honour its commitments, the value of Fund shares may decline and/or the Fund could experience delays in the return of collateral or other assets held by the counter-party. As interest rates rise, the value of certain income investments is likely to decline. Because the Fund investments may be concentrated in a particular geographic region or country, the Fund share value may fluctuate more than that of a less concentrated fund. Investments rated below the investment grade (typically referred to as 'junk') are generally subject to greater price volatility and illiquidity than higher-rated investments. No fund is a complete investment programme and you may lose money investing in a fund. The Fund may engage in other investment practices that may involve additional risks and you should review the Fund prospectus for a complete description.

Ratings are based on Moody's, S&P or Fitch, as applicable. If securities are rated differently by the ratings agencies, the highest rating is applied. Ratings, which are subject to change, apply to the creditworthiness of the issuers of the underlying securities and not to the Fund or its shares. Credit ratings measure the quality of a bond based on the issuer's creditworthiness, with ratings ranging from AAA, being the highest, to D, being the lowest based on S&P's measures. Ratings of BBB or higher by S&P or Fitch (Baa or higher by Moody's) are considered to be investment-grade quality. Credit ratings are based largely on the ratings agency's analysis at the time of rating. The rating assigned to any particular security is not necessarily a reflection of the issuer's current financial condition and does not necessarily reflect its assessment of the volatility of a security's market value or of the liquidity of an investment in the security. Holdings designated as "Not Rated" are not rated by the national ratings agencies stated above.

4. Per cent of total net assets.

5. Other net assets represent other assets less liabilities and include any investment type that represents less than 1% of net assets. Any securities sold short will be subtracted from that corresponding asset.

6. Per cent of bond holdings.

7. Absolute value by per cent of net assets. Currency exposures include all foreign exchange-denominated assets, currency derivatives and commodities.

8. External debt exposure is defined as exposure to sovereign debt, through bond or derivative investments, issued in a currency different from the currency that the sovereign entity can produce (print) itself. Absolute value by per cent of the total net assets. Includes the market value of bond holdings plus credit default swaps, valued at notional plus unrealised gains/losses.
