About Risk

The effectiveness of the Fund's option strategy is dependent upon a general imbalance of natural buyers over natural sellers of index options. This imbalance could decrease or be eliminated, which could have an adverse effect on the Fund. Fund performance is sensitive to stock market volatility. Calls and puts written by the Fund will be based on UCITS eligible equity indices (the "Indices"). If the Indices appreciate or depreciate sufficiently over the period to offset the net premium received, the Fund will incur a net loss. ETFs are subject to the risks of investing in the underlying securities and the Fund will bear a pro rata portion of the operating expenses of an ETF in which it invests. Derivative instruments can be used to take both long and short positions, be highly volatile, result in economic leverage (which can increase both the risk and return potential of the Fund), and involve risks in addition to the risks of the underlying instrument on which the derivative is based, such as counterparty, correlation and liquidity risk. If a counterparty is unable to honor its commitments, the value of Fund shares may decline and/or the Fund could experience delays in the return of collateral or other assets held by the counterparty. No fund is a complete investment program and you may lose money investing in a fund. The Fund may engage in other investment practices that may involve additional risks and you should review the Fund prospectus for a complete description.

Alex Zweber, CFA, CAIA
Managing Director, Investment Strategy
Joined Eaton Vance in 2018

Biography

Alex Zweber is Managing Director, Investment Strategy at Parametric Portfolio Associates LLC, in the Minneapolis Investment Center. He leads the investment team responsible for Parametric's liquid alternative strategies. He rejoined Parametric in 2020 after initially joining the firm in 2006 and then joining Eaton Vance in 2018.

Alex began his career in the investment management industry in 2006 with The Clifton Group (acquired by Parametric in 2012). He has experience working in portfolio construction, trading and portfolio management across both futures and options. In his various positions, he has worked closely with institutional and HNWI clients and their consultants to address their investment and risk management needs. Before rejoining Parametric, he was responsible for supporting the development and distribution of Parametric's strategies in Europe. Previously, he was a Senior Portfolio Manager on Parametric's volatility risk premium solutions.

Alex earned a B.A. in economics from Macalester College. He is a CFA charterholder and holds the Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst (CAIA) designation.
