September 27, 2021

London - We see some challenging crosscurrents driving the international equity markets, although we are optimistic about their long-term prospects overall. Here, we offer some perspectives on what we see as areas of lingering concern, and how we believe investors can best navigate this complex, shifting backdrop.

[Bullish and Bearish COVID
Developments: CDC
Advisors Say the Delta
Surge Is Over](#)

By: Marshall L. Stocker, Ph.D., CFA |
September 24, 2021

Boston - According to a new analysis by a consortium of researchers advising the CDC, the Delta surge will likely decline steadily now through next spring —without a significant bump up in the winter. As a result, we expect this will be our last weekly update on health policy responses and other COVID developments.

International Small Caps - Challenge and Opportunity

By: Aidan Farrell | September 20, 2021

London - Since early May, international small-cap stocks, as measured by the MSCI EAFE Small/Mid Cap Index, have risen by over 2%, and are now trading at all-time highs. Having risen by 14% so far this year (as of September 13), international small caps are outpacing their international large-cap counterparts in 2021.

Too much of a good thing: Unwinding a concentrated stock position

By: Tom Lee, CFA | August 10, 2021

Minneapolis - Amassing a large exposure to a single stock may not elicit much concern from an investor. After all, many investors find themselves holding large, concentrated stock positions resulting from good fortune such as equity-linked compensation, an inheritance or the sale of a business.

Mid-year outlook bright for international equities amid shifting paradigms

By: Ian Kirwan | July 16, 2021

London - On balance, our outlook for international equities is optimistic for the rest of the year. Europe is now catching up on the vaccination front and the U.K. is preparing to lift all COVID-19 restrictions over the next few weeks. Japan, which has been a notable vaccination laggard, is aggressively ramping up its efforts to control spread of the virus, most recently closing the summer Olympics to spectators.
