ESG Integration

Our portfolios benefit from proprietary ESG research from Eaton Vance subsidiary Calvert Research and Management ("Calvert"), a global specialist in Responsible Investing.

Our ESG Research

The focus on sustainable business practices has raised the potential for embedded environmental, social and governance (ESG) risk premia in markets. All other things being equal, we believe companies with strong or improving ESG practices can enjoy a low or falling cost of capital and vice-versa. And if we can identify the potential for company's success (or failure) in addressing specific ESG issues, we will be able to assess improving (or deteriorating) credits over the long term. So, as part of our traditional fundamental research, we also integrate ESG risk factor considerations into our credit analysis.

Walking the Talk

While many investment firms talk about "ESG integration", in reality, many struggle to truly leverage ESG insights, either because of a lack of experience understanding which specific ESG issues are most material to a given company or an over-reliance on limited data sets.

So how is Eaton Vance different?

A Group Wholly Dedicated to ESG: With access to a dedicated team of ESG researchers via subsidiary company Calvert – we're able to tap into the expertise of some of the most knowledgeable investment experts in the field.

Our proprietary Calvert Research System: This research model is designed specifically to deal with common ESG analytics challenges, such as inconsistent company reporting, absent information, and difficulty determining which specific ESG factors are most material to each sector of the market.

Peer Group Models: Our time-tested, yet ever-evolving, models help quantify ESG risk and, ultimately, price risk across the market to allow for relevant comparisons between credits within specified peer groups. If we cannot quantify and price risk appropriately for a particular company, we will not invest in it.

Primary tools for ESG-inclusive credit analysis:

An ESG Sector Thesis Breakdown: A detailed explanation of the financially material ESG factors for each specific sector. It is a helpful first step for Eaton Vance credit analysts seeking to understand the most relevant prevailing ESG risks in each segment of their investment universe.

A 3,000 Company Research Database: Housing Calvert's proprietary research on roughly 60% of companies in the global high-yield bond universe. This database allows Eaton Vance analysts to see the ESG ratings assigned to a particular company as well as how it compares to its peer group.

Bespoke research: If a company is not covered in the Calvert database, one of our Leveraged Credit analysts will work directly with a Calvert analyst to conduct ESG-focused research on that particular company.

High Yield

Our line-up of high-yield offerings employ rigorous fundamental credit research and market-factor analysis to capitalize on inefficiencies in the high-yield bond market. Via an opportunistic, value-driven approach, we seek to deliver consistent risk-adjusted performance with high information ratios and a favorably skewed up/down market capture.

Multi-Asset Credit

Aimed at investors who want seasoned professionals to take charge of asset allocation and security selection across the higher yielding credit and risk spectrum, our offering is typically used as a complement to a client's "core" fixed income exposures. The Multi-Asset Credit strategy is designed to capture credit risk premiums across different income sectors and corporate capital structures, with a strong focus on downside protection and the avoidance of permanent capital impairment. Our Approach

Discipline Beats Short-Term Thinking

At Eaton Vance, we evaluate a wide range of issuers and select only those we believe offer the greatest risk-adjusted return potential. The decision to not invest can often take more discipline than going along with the crowd. Our experience and track record demonstrate our ability to generate consistent excess returns in a risk-controlled way.

Fundamentals & Valuations Over Technicals & Momentum

We believe the key driver of long-term returns is starting valuations. As long-term investors, our focus is on valuations, fundamentals and risk factor analysis rather than technicals and momentum.

A Strong Culture of Managing Downside Risk

We believe true risk is the permanent impairment of capital. Accordingly, we prioritize our focus on avoiding defaults and limiting downside risk, which in turn, we believe, allows us to deliver attractive information ratios and Sharpe ratios over time.

Global Perspective & Resources

With an integrated resource model, we seek to leverage the time, tools and resources of multiple Eaton Vance investment teams around the world, helping our global portfolios avoid regional biases.

ESG Risk Factors

We believe environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors can impact asset prices and thus incorporate ESG risk factor analysis into our investment process.

ESG Factor Integration

The focus on sustainable business practices has raised the potential for embedded environmental, social and governance (ESG) risk premia in markets. All other things being equal, we believe companies with strong or improving ESG practices can enjoy a low or falling cost of capital and vice-versa.
